Ms. Fesenmaier

April 2018

We're springing into April in the library with National Poetry Month. Pick out a poetry book to share with your family in the next few weeks. Poems offer the flexibility needed for our often busy lives. You can read as many or as few as you have time for. Rhyming poems help reluctant readers enjoy the magic and fun of words. Shel Silverstein and Jack Prelutsky are probably the most popular elementary school favorites, but other suggested poets include J. Patrick Lewis and Maya Angelou.

Digital Safety Tip

Online gaming can be a fun way for kids to connect with others, but it's important for them to understand the risks and know how to handle certain situations. For example, kids should avoid posting pictures of themselves or releasing other personal information to their fellow gamers, and know what to do if another player starts harassing them.
